Privacy Policy

At my specialist practice my team and I aim to deliver the highest quality client/patient care at all times. In caring for my clients/patients it is necessary for me and/or my staff to collect information about our clients/patients that helps us meet our responsibilities to deliver quality specialist obstetric and gynaecological health care.

We may use this information for internal operational and clerical use and to improve our services. We take your confidentiality seriously and guard it with the utmost care.

Subsequently we commit to you, our clients/patients, to never sell, rent or share your personal information with a third party, especially your email addresses, phone numbers, financial information, or health status without your express permission and as required by law.

Our website may contain links to other websites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the privacy practices or security of such other sites. When you go to other websites from here, we advise you to be aware and read their specific privacy policy.

Our website uses Google Analytics, a service which transmits website traffic data to Google servers in the United States. Google Analytics does not identify individual users or associate your IP address with any other data held by Google. We use reports provided by Google Analytics to help us understand website traffic and web-page usage.

By using our digital information or website, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner described in Google's Privacy Policy and for the purposes set out above. You can opt out of Google Analytics if you disable or refuse the cookie, disable JavaScript, or use the opt-out service provided by Google.

We may use interfaces with social media sites such as Facebook®, Instagram®, Twitter, Google+® and others. If you choose to "like" or "share" information from this website through these services, you should review the privacy policy of that service. If you are a member of a social media site, the interfaces may allow the social media site to connect your visits to this site with other personal information.

To protect your privacy and the privacy of others, we may require evidence of your identity before we can grant you access to information about you or discuss your specific personal details.

If you feel your privacy or confidentiality has been compromised at any time please contact us immediately with your concerns.
